Far Headingley Dental Care: Where Quality Matters

North Leeds based Far Headingley Dental Care (FHDC) is a dental practice that prides itself on providing a quality dental experience. The current principal dentist Dr Precious is the third generation of dentists to own the practice which was originally established in the 1940's.

Don't think that this practice is stuck in the past though. Since January 2006 there has been a complete refurbishment of the premises to ensure that FHDC can take a leading role in today's modern dental market.

All surgeries have been completely renovated and now benefit from easy access dental chairs, climate control, digital cosmetic imaging and even DVD goggles so that you can watch a film whilst receiving your dental treatment. The reception area has also been refurbished to provide a relaxing and comfortable environment.

More important than a high quality environment though is a high quality dental team. Dentistry is a service and you simply cannot replace the personal touch. All of FHDC's dentists were invited to join the team because of their technical and artistic ability and their ability to communicate and relax people. The support team of dental hygienists, nurses and receptionists are all also highly skilled. Everyone receives ongoing training and development to ensure that the team keeps up to date with the latest techniques and the practice remains a safe and modern environment.

Far Headingley Dental Care is a family and cosmetic dental practice. This means that it can meet your dental needs throughout all stages of your life. From checking your babies' first teeth, through to you helping you maintain your oral health and achieving your perfect smile, FHDC dentists will provide ongoing support for you and your family.

Most people at some stage in their life have something that they do not like about their teeth. This may be something simple and straightforward to resolve such as teeth whiteness, or more complicated such as missing, crooked or broken teeth. FHDC's dentists aim to build a lasting relationship so that these cosmetic needs are understood and then resolved in the most appropriate way, at the appropriate time. Many people prefer to come back to the practice because they trust the practice team and they feel that their needs are understood.

If you are a nervous or anxious patient you may wish to consider dental sedation. Some people find that sedation is a pleasant and acceptable way of receiving dental treatment. Sedation is particularly suitable for complex cosmetic dentistry where it helps people feel peaceful and relaxed during longer periods in the dental chair.

The cost of dental treatment should not be a barrier to you having a healthy and beautiful mouth. Prices are regularly checked against other practices in the area to ensure that FHDC remains competitive. 0% Finance is available, as is Denplan and FHDC's own Budget Care Plan which covers the annual dental essentials. Budget Care Plan subscribers also benefit from a 10% discount from any additional treatment. Alternatively you can simply pay for treatment "as you go". Children under the age of five receive free dental care if accompanied by an adult who is registered at the practice and there are special discounts for older children.

Far Headingley Dental Care is conveniently located on Otley Road next to Richmond House School. There is ample parking in the private car park. If you have internet access, more information and details of any current special promotions can be viewed online at www.fhdc.co.uk
